

UNNATURAL CAUSES

...is inequality making us sick?

TOWN HALL MEETING

hosted by the Tulsa Health Department

Date: Monday, March 24, 2008
Location: Central Center @ Centennial Park
1028 East 6th Street
Time: 2:00 PM – 3:30 PM

Introducing “UNNATURAL CAUSES... Is Inequality Making Us Sick?”

This series sounds the alarm about America’s glaring socio-economic and racial inequalities in health and search for root causes. UNNATURAL CAUSES airs nationally on PBS over 4 consecutive Thursdays beginning March 27, 2008 at 9 PM.

We invite the public health community as well as non-health stakeholders (e.g., housing, community development, labor, racial justice, religious, community coalitions and other organizations) to participate in the town hall as we begin to build alliances with other sectors and advocate with governmental officials to promote health equity.

At this special segment screening of the first episode of the series, local community leaders will discuss how addressing health disparities will improve health outcomes in vulnerable populations.

To RSVP or for more information
Contact Cheray Smith at (918) 595-4462/csmith@tulsa-health.org.

“UNNATURAL CAUSES: Is Inequality Making Us Sick?” Produced by California Newsreel with Vital Pictures.
Presented by the National Minority Consortia. www.unnaturalcauses.org—www.newsreel.org