

NACCHO members have a seat at the table

NACCHO supports the work of nearly 3,000 local health departments and approximately 147,000 members of the public health workforce with an array of membership benefits. Today's LHDs face new challenges in working across sectors and going beyond traditional public health issues. NACCHO serves as a partner, guide, and advocate for LHD leaders and staff. As the nation moves into a new chapter of public health, NACCHO will continue to develop resources for the full spectrum of LHD needs.

Advocacy & Outreach

Amplify your voice in national conversations and policymaking related to public health and gain the communication skills to promote solutions.

Professional Development & Team Building

Advance your career with up-to-date information, training, and support—and gain the tools to build effective teams.

Networking & Community

Connect with colleagues nationwide to share effective practices, solve problems, drive change, and build successful community coalitions.

Research & Quality Improvement

Learn about cutting-edge research to help plan and strategize more effectively in order to grow and strengthen your agency.

Participation & Recognition

Get involved in national initiatives and receive recognition for your achievements and contributions to the field of public health.

NACCHO

National Association of County & City Health Officials

The National Connection for Local Public Health

NACCHO Works for You

Mission-focused and action-oriented, NACCHO provides programs that support local public health officials and the communities they serve. The key values of leadership, excellence, health equity, engagement, and innovation underpin all of NACCHO's work. NACCHO informs public policy, empowers individual and team development, strengthens partnership and capacity building, and facilitates and develops effective practices.

Advocacy & Outreach

- Communicating with policymakers and media to enhance LHD visibility and credibility
- Shaping policy and education to address current and future challenges
- Providing a unified voice on issues that impact local public health
- Advancing the interests of LHDs through building strong partnerships
- Training LHDs on policy development and successful communications

Professional Development & Team Building

- Offering advanced training
- Driving leadership development and succession planning
- Building competent teams
- Sharing effective practices
- Supporting capacity building
- Developing targeted LHD resources, tools, and publications
- Presenting new opportunities through the NACCHO Career Center

Networking & Community

- Exchanging ideas and connecting people in a vibrant community
- Facilitating collaboration and information sharing among partners
- Serving as a central point for the efficient collection and distribution of information
- Hosting thought-provoking and widely attended conferences and events
- Developing dynamic, engaging social networks
- Providing access to information to help build the LHD community

Research & Quality Improvement

- Conducting and advancing cutting-edge research
- Delivering access to timely, relevant data and expert analysis
- Driving the development and evaluation of technology, data, and practices
- Working with partners to create a research clearinghouse and disseminate results
- Developing tools and resources for quality improvement
- Creating and distributing knowledge management resources
- Promoting a multi-disciplinary approach to achieving organizational objectives

Participation & Recognition

- Providing a forum for active engagement and involvement of public health leaders nationwide
- Recognizing excellence in local public health programs
- Building professional credibility for individuals and departments
- Nurturing the development and exchange of ideas and model practices

There's Value in Belonging—Join NACCHO Today

Questions? Call 877-533-1320.

www.naccho.org/membership

NACCHO

National Association of County & City Health Officials

The National Connection for Local Public Health