LHDs that would like our feedback in advance for a stronger application can submit by Friday, August 12, 2022 at 8:00pm ET.

Final applications are due by Friday, August 19, 2022 at 8:00 pm ET. No exceptions.
I. Funding Opportunity Overview

The National Association of County and City Health Officials (NACCHO), with support from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), is accepting applications to participate in our Health Equity and Overdose Prevention Mentorship Program. This will be the second iteration of our mentorship program and will include opportunities for local health departments (LHDs) to learn from peers, share experiences and exchange strategies for integrating health equity into drug overdose prevention and response work. This mentorship program is designed to:

- Pair LHDs that have experience in advancing health equity in their overdose prevention or response programs in key strategy areas (see below) with peer LHDs interested in receiving assistance, guidance, tools, and resources to begin or continue work on planning or expanding their jurisdiction’s capacity to address health inequities in drug overdose.
- Provide bi-directional learning spaces for strategy and tool sharing around health equity practices that can be integrated into opioid prevention and response.
- Establish a network of LHDs from across the country to be a resource for continuous learning and connection around health equity and drug overdose both during and following the project period.
- Improve NACCHO and CDC’s understanding of how current health equity actions and strategies are being applied in local public health contexts.

The project period of performance will be from contract execution, (approximately) October 2022 to June 2023. Each selected mentee will receive funding of up to $20,000 to complete the program and associated deliverables. This is a firm fixed-price contract. NACCHO will announce the selected agencies in or by the week of August 29, 2022. Funding estimates for the overall program and for individual projects may change.

II. Background

Fatal drug overdoses have long been and continue to be a public health crisis. Between 1999 and 2018, almost 450,000 people died from drug overdoses in the United States\(^1\). According to the CDC, in 2019 alone, the number of drug overdose deaths amounted to over 70,000\(^2\). In response to this epidemic, public health officials and advocates have been successful in garnering greater attention to substance use, reframing the public’s understanding of it as a disease, and improving access to substance use disorder (SUD) treatment and services. However, the health inequities among populations experiencing drug overdose have not been so heavily addressed. In order to do so, this requires shifting drug overdose prevention and response efforts to identify and address the upstream, or “root cause”, factors that are driving ongoing gaps amid those experiencing drug overdose and its associated harms.

NACCHO’s Health Equity and Drug Overdose Prevention Mentorship Program serves as an opportunity for NACCHO to continue supporting LHDs in their efforts to address drug overdose in their communities. Furthermore, it is an opportunity for NACCHO to do so in a way that centers health equity as a core focus of these efforts. Participants in this program can expect to receive individualized peer-to-peer assistance and technical support in order to increase their capacity to integrate health equity into their drug overdose prevention and response efforts.

Contractors that cannot agree to NACCHO’s contract language should not apply for this initiative. Florida and Texas applicants should email IVP@naccho.org immediately for a copy of their standard contract. As part of the application, LHD applicants will be asked to verify that they have read NACCHO’s standard contract language and have provided a copy to the individual with signing authority at your organization for advanced consideration. • Participate in two individual check-in calls and two mentee-only group calls facilitated by NACCHO to review progress of planned activities and any major changes to the proposed work plan. Participants will include at least one representative from NACCHO and the mentee LHD, as well as any other stakeholders invited by the awardee.
• Participate in evaluation-related activities with NACCHO and CDC to track and measure progress towards expressed outcomes (i.e., pre- and post-evaluation survey, mid-program check-in survey, etc.).
