OVERVIEW

The National Association of County and City Health Officials (NACCHO) is the voice of the nearly 3,000 local health departments (LHDs) across the country. These city, county, metropolitan, district, and tribal departments work to protect and improve the health of all people and all communities. NACCHO provides capacity-building resources that support LHD leaders in developing and implementing public health policies and practices to ensure communities have access to the vital programs and services that protect them from disease and disaster. Additionally, NACCHO engages with federal policymakers on behalf of LHDs to ensure adequate resources, appropriate public health legislation, and sensible policies are in place to address the myriad of public health challenges facing communities.

With support from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), NACCHO is pleased to offer a funding opportunity for the Equipping Local Health Departments to Build COVID-19 Vaccine Confidence project that will support LHDs to improve COVID-19 vaccine confidence and address misinformation at the community level in partnership with local trusted community messengers. Through this project, LHDs will receive training, technical assistance, and other resources to increase equitable COVID-19 vaccine uptake, particularly among priority populations disproportionately impacted by COVID-19 disease and complications. LHDs will receive support to facilitate collaborations and partnerships with community stakeholders to support messaging for COVID-19 vaccination.

Through this funding opportunity, NACCHO will select up to twenty (20) LHDs to receive technical assistance and support to address vaccine hesitancy and increase COVID-19 vaccine confidence and uptake among priority populations disproportionately impacted by COVID-19 disease and complications.
The project period shall begin upon both parties’ full execution of the contract and will end July 31, 2022. Contingent on CDC approving a no cost extension, the project will continue with a contract modification and end on December 31, 2022. Applications must be submitted through the online submission form no later than January 31st 11:59 pm PT. In fairness to all applicants, NACCHO will not accept late submissions.

All necessary information regarding the project and application process may be found in this RFA. Applicants may pose individual questions to NACCHO at any point during the application process by e-mailing immunization@naccho.org.

RFA Informational Webinar: NACCHO will host an optional informational webinar on January 18th from 3-4PM ET to review the funding opportunity and respond to questions. Visit this link to register.

Questions may be submitted in advance to immunization@naccho.org. Please note that no new information will be shared during the webinar. The webinar will be recorded and sent to registrants. The webinar will also be recorded and posted to the NACCHO website here.

BACKGROUND
The COVID-19 vaccine has been proven safe and effective in protecting individuals from COVID-19 infection and significantly lessens the risk of severe illness and death associated with COVID-19. Despite the success and strong safety record of the COVID-19 vaccine, vaccine hesitancy and lack of confidence surrounding the COVID-19 vaccine continues to pose a significant threat to public health. Vaccine confidence across the lifespan for all vaccine-preventable diseases, including COVID-19, is critical to increasing vaccination coverage rates and protecting the health of individuals and communities’ across the nation and worldwide.

According to a recent Kaiser Family Foundation survey, many people who are unvaccinated are still hesitant (6 percent) or have no intention to get vaccinated (14 percent). Vaccine confidence is critical to maintaining vaccination coverage rates and protecting the health of individuals and communities. As outbreaks of COVID-19 continue to occur, it is imperative to mobilize LHDs to serve as chief health strategists charged with combatting misinformation and increasing vaccine confidence within their communities.

Tailored messaging is critical to support informed decision-making among populations that may be hesitant to get vaccinated. Receiving messages around specific concerns such as vaccine development, safety monitoring, and side effects, from trusted sources can support individuals in better understanding the benefits and risks of vaccination. Trusted messengers, such as healthcare providers, religious leaders, or community organizations, can enhance credibility and trust in evidence-based information, as opposed to misinformation. Furthermore, vaccinated individuals and trusted messengers could serve to clarify misinformation and increase confidence in the community.

ELIGIBILITY AND CONTRACT TERMS

Eligibility: This funding opportunity is open to LHDs with an interest or clearly identified need to promote COVID-19 vaccine confidence and mitigate the impact of vaccine misinformation among priority populations disproportionately impacted by COVID-19 disease and complications, as well as those with low COVID-19 vaccination rates.

Contract Terms:
NACCHO expects your agency, as the applicant, to review and agree to the NACCHO standard contract terms (Appendix A) and conditions as a requirement of award. No modifications to the terms or contract language will be made. As part of the application, applicants will be asked to verify that they have read NACCHO’s standard contract language (Appendix A) and have provided a copy to the individual with signing authority at their organizations for advanced consideration. However, if you know in advance that your agency or organization is going to have difficulty accepting any of the provisions in the contract, please contact NACCHO immediately to discuss. If you are an applicant from Florida, please contact NACCHO immediately for a copy of the Florida standard contract.

It is the responsibility of the awarded LHDs to return a signed copy of the contract within approximately 30 days of receipt (estimated February 2022). Recipients are encouraged to be proactive in coordinating their agency’s grant approval process to avoid possible delays. Applicants should review all terms and conditions to determine whether their agency is able to submit a proposal. The project period shall begin upon both parties’ full execution of the contract and will end July 31, 2022.

NACCHO will establish a fee-for-service contract with the awarded applicant where deliverables will be listed in the recipient’s contract and payment will be remitted upon submission and acceptance of those items.
Selected applicants will enter a contract with NACCHO to complete the deliverables specified in the application. NACCHO will provide a payment schedule in accordance with the completion of deliverables in the workplan (estimated 5 payments). Details on invoicing requirements will be shared upon selection and during the kick-off meeting with NACCHO. Please note: NACCHO reserves the right to make changes to the project timeline and payment schedule if necessary.

Award Terms & Conditions, Federal Regulations and Policies: CDC and grant recipients must comply with all applicable terms and conditions of award, federal laws, regulations, and policies: https://www.cdc.gov/grants/documents/General-Terms-and-Conditions-Non-Research-Awards.pdf.
