PURPOSE AND BACKGROUND

The National Association of County and City Health Officials (NACCHO) is the voice of the nearly 3,000 local health departments (LHDs) across the country. These city, county, metropolitan, district, and Tribal departments work to protect and improve the health of all people and all communities. NACCHO provides resources to help LHD leaders develop public health policies and programs to ensure that communities have access to the vital programs and services people need to keep them protected from disease and disaster. Additionally, NACCHO advocates on behalf of LHDs with federal policymakers for adequate resources, appropriate public health legislation, and sensible policies to address the myriad of challenges facing communities.

With support from the Center for State, Tribal, Local and Territorial Support (CSTLTS) within the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), NACCHO is pleased to offer a funding opportunity to provide training and technical assistance (TTA) support to build the workforce capacity of rural and frontier local health departments in response to COVID-19. Building upon a similar approach in Year 1 (2021), the purpose of this second year of awards is to increase the capacity of additional LHDs that serve rural and frontier jurisdictions to effectively respond to, recover from, and build community resiliency related to the COVID pandemic and future public health emergencies. NACCHO will achieve this goal by providing support to build LHD workforce capacity and strengthen partnerships focused on COVID response as well as longer-term emergency response sustainability. NACCHO will also identify, develop, support, assess, and disseminate best, promising, and innovative practices as well as implementation resources in support of COVID-19 vaccine administration and workforce development sustainability in rural and frontier communities.

Awards of $35,000 each will be provided to approximately thirty-five (35) LHDs to participate in and apply the project's COVID/emergency preparedness workforce capacity-building activities, which are aimed at strengthening local public health emergency system readiness. Opportunities for peer networking will also be provided by NACCHO. For more information, please find the participant RFA here.

Through this RFP, the Emergency and Administrative Planning consultant will provide frequent, tailored, and in-depth one-on-one technical assistance throughout the grant period to LHD grant recipients – all designed to support LHD grant recipients in updating existing or developing new administrative preparedness plans and procedures and to begin to implement those plans, as feasible, during the project period. All TTA are expected to address how health equity can be addressed / advanced within these topic areas and approaches. This consultant will also participate in the kickoff and conclusion webinars, support program evaluation activities, and coordinate their efforts with NACCHO and other project providers.

ELIGIBILITY AND CONTRACT TERMS

NACCHO will issue an award up to $450,000 in the form of a fixed priced contract. Consultants with demonstrated experience providing expert capacity-building in one-on-one technical assistance to a large cohort of communities with the goal of developing or updating administrative preparedness plans, authorities, and practices are eligible to apply. Competitive applicants will also demonstrate experience working with rural and frontier LHDs. All TTA provided must 1) be centered in administrative preparedness, 2) delivered to LHDs and relevant community-level multisectoral partnerships/coalitions, 3) be relevant to emergency response planning efforts, particularly in the areas of COVID-19 vaccine administration that will assist frontline staff to implement these activities, and 4) be designed and delivered in coordination with NACCHO, CDC, another project TTA providers.

NACCHO expects you as the applicant to review and agree to the NACCHO's Standard Contract Agreement. However, if you know in advance that your agency or organization is going to have difficulty accepting any of the provisions in the contract please contact NACCHO immediately to discuss. If you are an applicant from Florida, please contact NACCHO immediately a copy of the Florida standard contract. Bidders should review all terms and conditions to determine whether or not they are appropriate for submitting a proposal.

Period of Performance

The project period is anticipated to be approximately 9 months: April 2022 through December 2022. An initial contract will be executed with the consultant covering the April to July 2022 timeframe. Upon receipt of an anticipated no-cost-extension approval by CDC, NACCHO will extend the period of performance to end on/around December 31, 2022, to allow continued engagement with the cohort until the closing meeting in November 2022 and allow for the completion of all deliverables. NACCHO will only contract for the amount approved for the initial budget period of 4/1/2022 to 7/31/2022 and will issue contract modifications later in the year to provide funding for the second budget period of 8/1/2022 to 12/31/2022 once an extension of the period of performance is granted by CDC. See the section Proposed Budget and Budget Narrative for more details and required budget template representing both finding periods. Details regarding the possible changes to the timeline and any possible carryover requirements will be finalized with selected applicants.

PROJECT GOALS & TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS

This project seeks to build LHD rural and/or frontier workforce capacity and strengthen partnerships focused on administrative preparedness planning, communications, health equity, workforce mental health and well-being, and long-term emergency response sustainability through training and technical assistance as well sustainability planning.

A consultant is sought who can build the emergency preparedness workforce capacity of LHD staff who serve rural and/or frontier jurisdictions through the delivery of in-depth technical assistance pertaining to administrative preparedness and emergency preparedness and response. This consultant will provide subject matter expertise to assist all LHD grant recipients in the planning, training, and implementation of these activities. In addition, the selected consultant may provide sites with public health preparedness, response, and recovery guidance that will help the communities emerge from the current pandemic in a position that is better able to respond to future public health threats. The selected consultant should have experience with rural and/or frontier populations to best meet the needs of the selected LHDs. It should be noted that exact content requirements may shift over the funding period as needs and field needs evolve. It is expected that the consultant will work with NACCHO to advise and determine the most appropriate content scope within the timeframes of the project activities.

The Emergency and Administrative Preparedness Planning consultant will provide frequent, tailored, and in-depth one-on-one technical assistance throughout the grant period to LHD grant recipients – all designed to support LHD grant recipients in updating existing or developing new administrative preparedness plans and procedures and to begin to implement those plans, as feasible, during the project period. The consultant will participate in the project kickoff call with NACCHO staff, LHD sites and other providers. This consultant will be expected to coordinate their training and technical assistance (TTA) activities with NACCHO and other project providers (see RFP for Training and Technical Assistance Consultant for the Building Workforce Capacity of Rural and Frontier Local Health Departments to Respond to COVID-19 Program: Communications; Workforce Resilience, Mental Health and Well-Being; Health Equity).

LHD grant recipients will receive training and technical assistance designed to build their workforce capacity and capabilities related to immediate COVID-19 response and recovery efforts, as well as longer-term emergency preparedness and response sustainability. This includes building LHD workforce capacity in the areas of COVID-19 vaccine administration, communications, workforce mental health and well-being, legal authorities and policies, partnerships, and other emerging issues.

Within the 9-month period of performance, each LHD grant recipient, in coordination with their cross-sectoral partners and with the support of the Emergency and Administrative Preparedness Planning consultant in coordination with NACCHO and CDC, will update or develop an administrative preparedness plan and procedures to build their LHD COVID/emergency preparedness workforce and promote sustainability. Each site will work with the selected consultant to determine which section of their administrative preparedness plan and procedures to develop or update during this period of performance. The selected consultant is expected to assist and support each LHD as needed throughout this process.

All LHD award recipients will be also required to engage in pre- and post-project assessments near the beginning and end of the period of performance to inform NACCHO's role supporting site workforce efforts, project action and sustainability planning activities, as well as participate in the project's process and outcome evaluation activities. We expect the selected consultant to help inform these assessments from their perspective providing TA to the cohort and engaging with NACCHO program staff. Additionally, there will be a final required assessment (30-minute interview) for the selected consultant to participate in at the end of the contract.

SCOPE OF WORK

Required project activities are listed below. Financial support will be provided to LHD grant recipients to undertake supplemental activities.

The selected consultant will be expected to undertake the following tasks:

1. Identify technical assistance needs and priorities
  - a. Review all site applications for technical assistance themes. As needed, identify areas for further exploration and meet with sites for follow up.
  - b. Review LHD administrative preparedness plans and procedures and identify areas for improvement. If an LHD does not have an administrative preparedness plan, instead meet with LHD points of contact to discuss what areas of an administrative preparedness plan such as the process of ensuring that fiscal, legal, and administrative authorities and practices governing funding, procurement, contracting, and hiring, they would like to work on during this period of performance.
  - c. Develop TA plan that delineates priority areas for improvement. Meet one on one with each LHD to develop an action plan with the goal of updating or developing their administrative preparedness plans, procedures, authorities and practices.
2. Provide Training and Technical Assistance
  - a. Along with NACCHO staff and other providers, participate in the project kick off webinar to provide an overview of administrative preparedness planning and share key resources. Deliver frequent one-on-one TA to each LHD grant recipient throughout the project period to address their unique needs and build their capacity to revise/develop and implement, as feasible, realistic, actionable, and meaningful administrative preparedness plans.
  - b. Lead one (1) Community of Practice (CoP) 60-minute virtual session to aid LHD emergency and administrative preparedness among NACCHO's broader LHD membership.
3. Provide tools and resources
  - a. Identify, compile, and share existing and pertinent tools/resources from the field.
  - b. Develop/tailor at least two (2) new resources pertaining to emergency and administrative preparedness relevant to both LHD grant recipients during the project period and broader LHD practitioners.
4. Coordinate and Collaborate with NACCHO
  - a. Participate in an initial orientation call with NACCHO as well as regular project planning and coordination meetings with NACCHO, other TTA providers and, as relevant, CDC.
  - b. Provide subject matter guidance to NACCHO team to inform ongoing training and technical assistance efforts.
  - c. Communicate progress of activities with NACCHO staff through regular check-ins (April 2022 - December 2022).
  - d. Develop and keep up to date a data management tool for tracking technical assistance requests/activities or coaching for evaluation and project management purposes.
5. Present Project Results
  - a. Co-develop an abstract and materials for sharing project results at one (1) national conference (e.g., NACCHO's Preparedness Summit). Note: Abstract and draft materials are to be developed by the end of the contract period, or December 31, 2022; actual presentation may occur later, pending acceptance.

TRAINING AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE (TTA) AREAS AND APPROACHES

NACCHO, CDC, and other TTA providers will build LHD rural/frontier workforce capacity and sustainability by providing tailored, target training and technical assistance to grant recipients. This includes facilitating monthly virtual, interactive workshops; facilitating a community of practice (CoP) to foster peer exchange and learning; providing tools and resources that meet immediate and longer-term needs (e.g., templates, checklists, guides); and offering on demand ad hoc technical assistance.

As such, the Emergency and Administrative Preparedness Planning provider will be required to provide capacity-building TTA across the project's 9-month period of performance in the following topic areas and approaches:

Topic Areas:

- Administrative Preparedness Planning: Understanding how to create/implement effective systems, such as for emergency procurement; staffing (e.g., hiring and training, building surge capacity, staff turn-over and succession planning); and emergency reporting practices (i.e., how to streamline policies and procedures focused on public health data reporting processes). This also includes gaining insights on how to improve and exercise public health authorities during emergencies that expedite these administrative processes and procedures, streamline procurement and personnel actions, and support the implementation of protective health measures. Furthermore, building skills and knowledge around techniques on how to incorporate and apply TTA received to build your workforce capacity both short- and longer term, including by bolstering or developing sections of LHDs Administrative Preparedness Plans.
- Emergency Preparedness and Response: Knowledge and skill development in technical areas related to COVID-19 vaccine administration that will assist frontline staff to implement these activities. This may include how to strengthen surveillance efforts, how to use data to inform response efforts, vaccination outreach strategies, and strategies to increase vaccine confidence (i.e., building partnerships).

TTA Approaches:

- LHD Grant Recipient Training: Emergency and Administrative Preparedness 101. The provider will participate in the project kick off webinar for all LHD grant recipients. During this session, the consultant will be given a set time to introduce themselves to LHD sites, share out plans for TA engagement over the project period, and provide an overview of emergency and administrative preparedness relevant to rural/frontier jurisdictions and highlight key resources.
- Technical Assistance: Review and Update or Develop LHD Administrative Preparedness Plan. The consultant will provide one-on-one technical assistance to each cohort member with the goal of developing or updating administrative preparedness plans, authorities, and practices. We expect the selected consultant to spend an average of 4 hours per LHD grant recipient per month over the 9-month period of performance. Please be aware that the technical assistance average spent with each LHD will be dependent on several factors 1) whether an LHD has an administrative preparedness plan 2) how advanced/updated is their administrative preparedness plan and 3) areas of the administrative preparedness plan an LHD and the selected consultant determine to develop/update over this period of performance. NACCHO will be collecting LHD cohort members administrative preparedness plans as part of their application and this information will be shared with the consultant upon notice of award.
- Community of Practice (CoP) session: Lead the design and facilitation of one (1) 60-minute monthly virtual CoP session (date TBD) to aid LHD emergency and administrative preparedness among NACCHO's broader LHD membership (i.e., not LHD grantee specific, but relevant to all interested LHDs who serve rural/frontier jurisdictions).
